

History Vision Map

Year 2 – The Significant Lives of People in our Area: The Potteries 1899 – today

Crucial Knowledge	Intent
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Pottery is things made from clay (pots, plates, cups).• Clay is dug up from the ground.• Stoke-on-Trent is also known as 'The Potteries' because it is famous around the world for making pottery.• Many people in Stoke on Trent used to work in 'pot banks' (a place where pottery is made).• Clarice Cliff was famous for her pottery artwork in the 1930s. She was based in Burslem, Stoke on Trent.• Emma Bridgewater is famous for her pottery designs. She is still alive and has a factory in Hanley, Stoke on Trent.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Recap: Celebrities from the past (Year 1).• Origins of pottery: what it is and where it comes from• The development of pottery in Stoke on Trent: Josiah Wedgwood• Work in the pottery industry: jobs and ovens• Historical transport of Pottery: canals• Clarice Cliff• Clean Air Act• Emma Bridgewater